ADVISOR FOR PRISONS MEN CALL ON GRAND JURORS TO TESTIFY

Effort Will Be Made to Impeach C. B. Ragsdale and R. L. Barber in Subornation of Perjury Case

TO AIR METHODS USED IN GETTING AFFIDAVITS

Eleven Jurors Obtained to Try Lehon, Tedder and Thurman on Charge Growing Out of Frank Case

Attorneys for Dan R. Lehon, Arthur Thurman and C. C. Tedder, charged with subornation of perjury in the Frank case, have summoned eight or ten members of the present Fulton county grand jury for the purpose of impeaching, by their testimony, Alex. C. B. Ragsdale and R. L. Barber, who made the famous affidavit which resulted in the charges.

The affidavits Ragsdale and Barber swore they overheard a negro answering Jim Conley's description of the fugitive, and that he had killed a white girl (presumably Mary Phagan) in the National Hotel. Subsequently they repudiated the affidavits and made affidavits swearing that they never heard of the fugitive. The indictment of Lehon, Thurman and Tedder, who were instrumental in getting up the first affidavits, followed. Solicitor Hugh Dorsey has presented several indictments to several grand juries against Lehon, Thurman and Tedder, each new set of indictments taking the place of those previously presented, his purpose being to perfect the indictments and make them proof. The technical points which he anticipated might arise in the denials were taken up by the first affidavits, followed. Each time the solicitor has gone before the grand jury he has taken Ragsdale and Barber with him, and they have sworn to the methods employed by Lehon, Thurman and Tedder in getting up the affidavits. They were recently before the present grand jury. One of the questions the grand jury will be asked, when the lawyers for the defense introduce the affidavits, is whether Ragsdale and Barber were present at the circumstances upon which the solicitor bases his subornation of perjury charges.

Two more jurors were secured Wednesday morning, making eleven in all that were here summoned. The two are A. R. Hays, treasurer of the Georgia Insurance company, and W. H. Hays, a well known Atlanta attorney.

The other jurors secured Wednesday are V. C. Smith, J. R. Moore, W. A. Wilson, John P. Peacock, W. A. Simpson, "Lance" Williamson, Robert F. Jordan, and C. C. Curtis.

After exhausting a panel of fourteen veniremen to get the grand jury summoned, the court took a recess until more veniremen could be secured. Fifteen or more were exhausted without result, and shortly after 11 o'clock the court took another recess until 1 o'clock to summon still another panel.

Out of the twenty-five citizens whose names were drawn, eleven were found by the court, and the others were found by the jury. Several times he brought into court one of these men, and the juror was secured. Judge Hill then drew from the jury but twenty-five more names, giving the department a grand jury of thirty-five, many of these as possible by Thursday morning.

The court room was filled with spectators Wednesday. Every space around the doors, waiting to secure every seat that was available, was filled.

PITTSBURG AND CHICAGO STOCK YARDS CLOSED

New Infections of Foot and Mouth Disease Have Been Found

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Orders closing the Pittsburgh and Chicago stock yards, because of new infections of foot and mouth disease, went out today from the department of agriculture. The yards probably will be closed a week. The Chicago stock yards are closed for the immediate slaughter, however, and the newest order merely stops outgoing cattle while the disease is spreading the infection.

Kaiser Is Felicitated By President Wilson On 56th Birthday

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—President Wilson today sent a message to Emperor William of Germany, congratulating him on his fifty-sixth birthday. His message was as follows: "In behalf of the government and the people of the United States I have the pleasure to extend to you my cordial congratulations on this anniversary of your birthday, and to wish you my own good wishes for your welfare." (Signed) "WOODROW WILSON."

On his own birthday anniversary recently, President Wilson received and acknowledged greetings from Emperor William, King George, President Poincaré and other rulers of Europe.

Steamer May Not Be Allowed to Land Food for Germany

Seizure of All Flour and Grain in Empire Makes All Foodstuffs Absolute Contraband, View of London Globe

(By Associated Press.)

LONDON, Jan. 27.—The decision of the German government to seize all flour and grain makes these foodstuffs absolute contraband instead of conditional contraband, as they were heretofore, argues the London Globe in a leading article today.

"We permitted food to be imported by Germany," the newspaper says, "provided it was intended for the civil population alone, but now that it is to be used for the military purposes of the German government, it becomes absolute contraband and vessels carrying food supplies to the German ports or to neutral ports from which these cargoes are to pass into Germany, will do so at the peril of capture."

RESERVE BANKS HAVE PAID OFF DEBT TO THE STAGE, SAYS BOARD

(By Associated Press.)

Tells Congress that First Two Months of Actual Operation Has Proved Success of System

FINANCIAL SITUATION OF NATION IMPROVED

No Additional Legislation Is Asked and State Bank Problem Is Near Solution, Report Says

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—The first report of the federal reserve board covering the developments which preceded the opening of the twelve regional reserve banks last November and two months in which they have been in actual operation, was sent to congress today. It announces that notwithstand the fact that the system now "cannot be regarded as experimental in the sense that there is any uncertainty as to the outcome." No legislation is asked for, the board devoting its report chiefly to an outline of the changes that have strengthened the nation's financial situation.

"Less than five months have elapsed," says the report, "since the introduction into our financial system of the most far-reaching change that has been made in the field of American banking since the passage of the national banking act. Less than two months have passed since the federal reserve banks actually opened for business. The system, however, is in operation and has already produced results of the most noteworthy character."

"There is much yet to be done, but the work, so far, has been experimental in the sense that there is any uncertainty as to the outcome. The only question is as to how rapidly it will be possible to develop the full capabilities and resources of the federal reserve system. Its potentialities and its advantages should continue to be demonstrated in the future to the solidity, stability and flexibility of the American credit character."

"The question, however, naturally arises as to the proper place and function of the reserve banks in the banking and credit system. On the other hand, it is represented that they may be instrumental in the future to the solidity, stability and flexibility of the American credit character."

BANKS AND BUSINESS

"The ready availability of its resources is of supreme importance in the conduct of business. It is, therefore, then will it constantly carry the promise of being able to protect business interests and to maintain the sequences of ill-advised expansion of credit on the one hand, and against the menace of unnatural restrictions and unnecessary contractions on the other."

120,000 Turks Invading Egypt—First Battle on Suez Canal—Warships Gather to Protect British Pass

(By Associated Press.)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27.—Emperor William, in fifty-six years old today, and, although there is little information of the day's military activities, the latest reports available make it appear that the emperor's troops were endeavoring to win for him a birthday gift in the shape of a victory against the British.

Two days ago violent German attacks were beaten off several times. They developed with greatest force against the British in the Bassee canal in France near the Belgian border, and against the French further south, in the region of Cranonne.

Today's official communications from Paris and Berlin, which are yesterday's fighting, show that on the day before the emperor's birthday the German won several successes near Cranonne. The French war office admits that French troops were driven back in some of the attacks, but that they were retaken later.

The German statement, however, claims that the British were driven back, and that the French were repulsed. It also claims that the British were driven back, and that the French were repulsed.

What Thin Folks Should Do To Gain Weight

Physician's Advice For Thin, Underdeveloped Men and Women

Thousands of people suffer from excessive thinness, which is not only a physical defect, but a serious health hazard. It is a condition which, if not corrected, may lead to various diseases, including tuberculosis, heart disease, and general weakness. The cause of this condition is often a lack of proper nutrition and a failure to take advantage of the many healthful foods available. It is essential for thin people to consult a physician and follow his advice, which may include the use of certain foods and supplements to build up the body and restore health.

HEADACHES

Thousands of men and women suffer from headaches every day. These headaches are often caused by a variety of factors, including stress, fatigue, and poor diet. They can be a real nuisance, interfering with work and daily life. The best way to deal with headaches is to identify the cause and take steps to prevent them. This may involve getting more rest, eating a healthy diet, and avoiding stressful situations. If the headaches persist, it is important to consult a physician for further advice.

SICK HEADACHES

Sick headaches, the most miserable of all sicknesses, are often caused by a variety of factors, including indigestion, overeating, and stress. They can be a real torment, making it difficult to carry out daily activities. The best way to deal with sick headaches is to avoid the factors that cause them and to take steps to improve your diet and lifestyle. If the headaches are severe, it is important to consult a physician for treatment.

WIFE MAKES PLEA FOR WORK FOR HUSBAND

An earnest plea to aid her husband, an iron moulder, to find work, was made Wednesday morning to The Journal by Mrs. H. L. Henderson, 345 Haynes street. Her husband, who has been unemployed for some time, is a skilled iron moulder and is well qualified by experience to take on any work. Mrs. Henderson is a devoted wife and mother and is doing everything in her power to help her husband find work. She has written to various employers and has even gone door-to-door to seek employment, but has been unsuccessful. She is now appealing to the community for help.

AGRICULTURAL ALLIES ARE EXHIBITED FOR STATE

Woman's Clubs to Hold Meetings Beginning at Thomasville February 10

Beginning at Thomasville on February 10 a series of agricultural rallies under the auspices of the Georgia Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in various sections of the state. This was agreed upon at a conference between representatives of the agricultural interests of the state and representatives of the Federation of Women's Clubs, held Tuesday morning in the offices of the state department of agriculture at the capital.

The object of these rallies will be to put the Federation of Women's Clubs, through their district clubs, in a position to assist in bringing about better home conditions in the country. Programs have been prepared for these rallies which will be confined to an hour or two of the day, so that the women working in the state stand for an hour which can assist a community, how their services can be procured, and what extent service can be rendered.

Those present at the conference were: Mrs. Nellie Peters Black, Mrs. P. J. McGehee, Mrs. L. M. Lyman, J. A. Anderson, representing the Federation of Women's Clubs; Dr. D. C. Hughes, assistant commissioner of agriculture; J. P. Campbell, state agent for the demonstration work in Georgia; Dr. D. C. Hughes, assistant commissioner of agriculture; J. P. Campbell, state agent for the demonstration work in Georgia; Dr. D. C. Hughes, assistant commissioner of agriculture; J. P. Campbell, state agent for the demonstration work in Georgia.

The rallies will be held at the following places: Thomasville, February 10; Valdosta, February 11; Milledgeville, February 12; Macon, February 13; Dalton, February 14; Marietta, February 15; Columbus, February 16; Savannah, February 17; Jacksonville, February 18; Gainesville, February 19; Albany, February 20; and Tallahassee, February 21.

RESERVE BANKS HAVE PASSED EXPERIMENTAL STAGE, SAYS BOARD

State banks and trust companies to the system, is receiving consideration and that at least a tentative solution of the problems at large has been reached in the near future.

The report shows that 92 state banks and trust companies with aggregate capital and surplus of $12,840,000 have been converted into national banks and entered the system since the passage of the Federal Reserve Act. This is a significant achievement, showing that the experimental stage has been passed and that the system is now being adopted by a large number of financial institutions.

The report also shows that the conversion process has been completed for 44 of the 92 banks, with the remaining 48 banks expected to complete the process by the end of the year. This indicates that the system is being widely accepted and that the experimental stage has been successfully completed.

BILL AT THE FORSYTH AS SEEN BY JOURNAL CARTOONIST

THEATERS

A good variety entertainment is the Forsyth's contribution to local theatergoers this week. That the bill is pleasing is best evidenced by the fact that the S. R. O. sign has been given all late comers at four performances, and requests for reservations and the cash sale for the rest of the week indicate the show has registered a hit. There is novelty splendidly blended with comedy and there is music, song and dance that exactly suits the Forsyth's following. Headlining the bill is Emma Carus, one of the best liked of the Broadway favorites. The star comedienne is assisted by Carl Randall who is a class by himself in the art of real dancing. Miss Carus has a good time juggling along with chatter song and dance and she introduces some schemes in costume that will laugh.

The Maxine brothers are clever gymnasts and entertaining in that style of performance, but the big feature to their act is "Bobby," a pure white bull dog, who does wonderful stunts and some excellent comedy. Misses Weston and Leon sing absolutely new songs. Jarrow does his comedy magic stunts and the other features are all liked.

Next week's headliner will be Jesse L. Lasky's "Beauty," a combination of pretty girls in an act that will be one of the greatest drawing cards the Forsyth has offered. A special feature on the bill will be Florence Tempest, assisted by her piano player and dancing partner.

The reception accorded the Baldwin-Melville stock company at the opening performance has filled the management with enthusiasm and the prediction is made that this company will remain in Atlanta for many weeks. The performances at the Atlanta of "Our Lives" have been heartily praised by the public and critics, all uniting in saying the company is far above the ordinary stock requirements. "Our Lives" is a splendid comedy and is filled with laughs. It is capably staged and dressed in every particular. Miss Lasky, the leading woman, shows some stunning poses and other members of the cast are well. Altogether the play and players have caught the fancy of Atlanta and are sure of success. Other matinees will be given Thursday and Saturday, while performances will be given each night. Next week the bill will be "The Man from Home."

The Grand's new policy of 5 cents for all seats, matinees and evenings, has met with general favor. The house was crowded Wednesday night. It was shown for the first time in Atlanta the two famous motion picture stars, Max Fleischer and Lotita Roberson in a picturization of "The Truth Wagon." This is a drama of the life today and in it is interwoven a strong story of love and politics and newspapers that is intensely absorbing. The central figure of the photoplay is a young newspaper publisher with reform ideas in politics and in love, too.

Lillian Russell in "Wildfire," the Montgomery Theater's movie offering Thursday and Friday of this week, has aroused widespread interest among lovers of the photo film, and a record crowd is expected to see the famous stage star in this exciting race track drama.

"Wildfire" abounds in action. Love, mystery, detective work and a sensational race scene, all combine to thrill the spectator, and Miss Russell herself is at her best in the role of the promoter's daughter, who follows the gambler who would swindle her of her father's wealth.

Edith Du Brui, manager of the Montgomery, has installed a violin and player piano for the week, and its music, which has been pronounced marvelous by those who have heard it, will add greatly to the production of "Wildfire."

MORE RAIN PROBABLE, SAYS WEATHER MAN
The weather man refuses to be good. More cloudy weather, with possibility of rain, is predicted for Atlanta Wednesday night and Thursday. Probably it will get colder Thursday night, with a temperature below the freezing point. The thermometer marked only 34 degrees at its lowest point Tuesday night.

OLSAN'S PROFIT-SHARING SHOE SALE BIG SUCCESS

People From All Walks of Life Taking Advantage of the Big Opportunity Now Offered at Olsan's

Olsan's Big Profit-Sharing Shoe Sale has become a popular event in the history of Atlanta merchandising, and there are hundreds of people going to Olsan's during this sale who were not patrons of the store before. The Profit-Sharing idea has taken hold of the country and buyers like to feel, like to know, that they are being considered in the matter, when they enter a store. Olsan's hit upon this profit-sharing plan, believing that the increased volume in business would outweigh the smaller profits that are now made on each pair of shoes. If you haven't been to Olsan's since this sale began, then it will pay you to go, for you will find a courteous staff of salesmen, ready to fit you in the particular shoe that you want. And the prices have been cut on each and every pair in the house. (Adv.)

AMERICAN FASHIONS

BY LILLIAN E. YOUNG

It isn't respectful or even polite to talk about a dear departed, but—those impending nuptials of posterior certainly were trying most of the time, and some of the particulars—wo, let joy and skirts be simultaneously unjoined, for Fashion decrees it so.Because we could not make such a radical change all in one day, the first of the season saw the long tunic and the narrow under skirt next door neighbor, but, as our old friend, the under-skirt, found itself losing in popularity, it became more and more retreating and has finally, in evident chagrin, shrunk
from sight behind the long full tunic which, little by little, has descended over it like a muffler over a candle, and lo—we may walk again!The new skirt is interestingly presented in the suit design of a top-skirt, where black velours is combined with parchment white broadcloth in a novel manner.The jacket is one of the flaring hip-length models, fur trimmed and with the added attraction of a military finish at the neck with the inevitable buttons and braid that this style calls for. The very high collar extends almost to the ears at either side, then turns back to reveal a white satin facing. The front edges are lined with mottled only a few inches below the bust line and there are cut away in the back.The skirt shows a generous view of a broad girde of white broadcloth, edged with fur and white-faced, match the collar. The lower flaring edge of the coat also furnishes a border.The skirt shows a double line of shirring at the top where it is joined to the girde or basque, as the case may be, and is quite plain except for the fur border on the hem.Smart, close-fitting chapeaux are the correct thing for such costume, and the new styles in hats are being brought edging the top of the brim.

LITTLE STORIES FOR BEDTIME

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

While Peter Rabbit was telling little Jimmy all about the joke he had played on Sammy Jay and Blacky the Crow, and all about the narrow escape
he had from the old Grandfather Fox, there was great excitement over by the great pile of fallen trees deep in the Green Forest. Sammy Jay and Blacky were sure that somewhere down underneath was Buster Bear fast asleep.
They knew that and forth over the great pile, peering down among the branches and hoping that they would catch a glimpse of Buster. All the time they went up a constant screaming and chattering as it was in their way.Of course this brought everybody wondering. By the time Teddy and Granny Fox got there Tommy Tit and Johnny Chuck were already there.
Not long afterward Jimmy Skunk came ambling up, and wanted to know what all the fuss was about. Then Sammy told how he and Blacky had just seen Peter Rabbit peering down there. Buster Bear was. Sammy told just how he had spied on Peter and followed him straight over to the great pile, and he didn't seem the least bit excited about having been a spy. He told how Peter had peeped under the fallen trees as if he expected to see someone there and then how he had run away
as if in great fright."I'll tell you," Peter found out about Buster and wouldn't tell," said Sammy. "I knew he couldn't keep away
very long and would pay Buster a visit
the very first chance he got, and he did.
I wish you could have seen him. He tiptoed up close and looked under, then jumped as if scared to death. Then he tiptoed back and peeped under again.
I guess he saw Buster all right by the way he ran this time. He won't feel so important now that we have found out his secret.""Have you seen Buster yet?" asked Tommy Tit, who was fitting about among the branches of the great pile and peering down among them with his bright eyes."No," replied Sammy. "He must be way down underneath where we can't see him."All the time Teddy and Granny Fox had kept at a respectful distance, for they knew they were very crafty and never take chances."Why don't you go up alone and look under?" Peter Rabbit teased Jimmy Skunk, who had been slowly walking all around the great pile."Why don't you do it yourself?" snapped Teddy."I think I will," replied Jimmy, who you know, isn't afraid of anybody or anything except a terrible gun."With this Jimmy walked straight up to the great pile of fallen trees just where Sammy Jay said that Peter had been.NEW

To Mrs. Bishop

Mrs. Henry Bishop, of Paris, France, has been the central figure at a number of parties during her visit the past few days to her consorts, Colonel and Mrs. Robert J. Lowry, and as the guest of Mrs. Lee Lewman for the remainder of her visit she will be entertained at a series of affairs.Mrs. Bates Block entertained at the tea dance Wednesday afternoon, and Mrs. George Dexter will entertain eight friends at a bridge Saturday afternoon at the Druid Hills Golf club, and later the party will attend the tea dance.Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Beam gave a dinner party Tuesday evening at their apartment in compliment to Mrs. Bishop.The lace-covered table had as central decoration a low crystal bowl holding two-toned pink roses and hyacinths edged with a plating of rainbow gauze without and with a central silver candelabra, holding green tapers covered with French novelty shades of green and gold. The place cards were little wreaths of pink roses.Mrs. Beam was crowned in cloth of gold veiled in iridescent tulle. Mrs.
Bishop wore a Paris model of white satin combined effectively with black chiffon edged in silver, with corsage of valley lilacs, and Mrs. Lewman wore a becoming gown of rose-shaded satin

Additional Plans for Educational Dance

Mr. Ben Lee Crew, who is a member of the Old Guard, has been asked to bring this organization to the dance which the education committee of the Atlanta Woman's club will give at the Capital City club Thursday evening.This will be a very interesting feature of the entertainment as the men will be in a body in their uniforms after their regular meeting.All details of the dance have now been completed and the affair promises to be one of the most delightful of the season. It is hoped that the informal like the Tuesday evening dances given at the club each week and the guests
are not expected to wear evening dress unless they wish it. The hall room will be used in order to accommodate the crowd and an excellent orchestra has been engaged for the evening.The entertainment, which is for the benefit of the municipal schools of the state is being under the auspices of Mrs.
Spencer Atkinson, chairman, and the members of her educational committee.They have made arrangements with the Capital City club whereby those who desire to entertain in a large room during the evening. Tickets to this entertainment are on sale at the door by all those who have not previously bought them.Down Stairs Section

A 4-REEL "SCREECHER" FILM

CONCERNING TWO PAIS.

Good Luck? Not for a pal of mine: I want no friend of that type Who leaves you at a given sign Or blows just when the game is ripe: Who leads you onward with a hoist And ducks when you need him most.

Hard Luck? You said a monthful there: For here's a pal for any back: This old boy doesn't even care If you're no shirt upon your back: He'll one-step with you in the dance Though patches crown your bally pants.

Good Luck sticks with the Winning Team: Hard Luck, collecting in the rout, Sticks only with the fading dream: Of those amid the down and out: He can't proud he'll stick with you Across the other side of hell.

Good Luck brings fat—and span of girls: But Hard Luck brings athwart the tape: The greatest trainer of God's earth To put a fighter into shape: He leads the fighting heart to fame: But drives the quitter from the game.

There are times when one can go a bit stale on an over-diet of Hard Luck. But in the majority of cases it is the only foundation extant for permanent content.

THE GAME'S TRAVAIL.

If a casual visitor from Mars or the Moon should land upon these United States it would be his immediate opinion that sport in this country was suffering from a severe case of the flu.

In baseball he would see a wild swarm of maggots, players and lawyers raising the well-known dickens; among the colleges he would hear a loud wail and uproar concerning summer ball playing; he would hear the charges of professionalism in golf and the track game, attached to charges and counter-charges among members of the Tennis association.

He would hear the charges of commercialism in regard to football, concerning the employment of paid coaches and the rearing of mighty stadiums and immense gate receipts. Sport in this country, he would say, is going to Grand Old Omelette on the Limited with all brakes off.

THE WHEREFORE OF THE TURMOIL.

The present turmoil is sufficient to lead to this opinion, but after all it is only a natural development.

Twenty years ago sport in the U. S. A. was a limited arrangement. There were few tennis players and still fewer golfers. Baseball was staged upon a far smaller scale. Most of those interested in sport were spectators. And only a small portion of the populace were interested to any degree even as on-lookers.

But within the last ten years conditions have been overthrown. There has been a vast and sudden rush to sport from every walk of existence. The man today is the exception who did not attach to some game, either as a spectator or participant. This new interest has brought millions of dollars into the game and the wild smash of newly-arrived enthusiasm has upset the order of things. Hence a readjustment was due and a rearranging was in order.

THEN AND NOW.

At this juncture fully $150,000,000 is being spent on sport in America. The change has been sudden and overwhelming. Some time ago we were talking baseball with a club owner who held a major league franchise for $100,000. That same man today would be worth $1,000,000 on his payroll and not a man was getting over $2,500 a year. Yet he lost money and was glad to sell out at a small profit.

There were simply not enough fans in those days to justify any heavy expenditures. This club owner's payroll was about $20,000 a season. Today the average big league payroll is over $70,000.

In spite of the fact that thousands every year are taking up golf, tennis or other games of their own, new fans have been added and the rush of all this money has naturally upset the old order of things. The player believes each magnate is making a million dollars. The magnate believes the player is being overpaid and is taking in all the surplus cake. It was only natural that a mix-up should follow, but readjustment is now under way and it will be only a matter of a short while before the situation will be handled in the proper way. All that is necessary is that the readjustment be made as quickly as possible and the tangle be unraveled without too long a delay. But don't get it into your head that interest in sport is waning. It is only at its first rush. For the man who once finds the great benefit to be obtained by a close interest in some good game is a life member.

MORE DOPE ON GOOD K. A.

When good King Arthur ruled the land As we have said before, He rarely ever killed some nutti Or sought some subject's gore.

BUT WHEN KING ARTHUR HELD HIS THROAT

In ancient realms of light, He never had to fear about A Johnson-Willard fight.

ANOTHER TRUST.

It's a wonder the Feds haven't started in to dissolve Johnny Evers as a trust. Did it ever occur to you that last season Johnny, height five feet, inches and weight 145 pounds, made more money out of baseball than the club owners of fourteen major league franchises? Or did it ever occur to you that Johnny, individually, made $100,000 more last season than the Champion Mackmen brought in for Messrs. Mack and Shibe?

Evers last season gathered in over $40,000. What is more he deserved every cent of it. But there are about 10 club owners who would gladly have traded their franchises and some 25 ball players for the earnings capacity of one so-called star.

New York, says a Philadelphia, "has always a commercialized sport." Undoubtedly. Look at all the money New York has plied up backing the Giants to beat the Athletics.

We have had a cable installed from the first tee at the Havana Golf club. By tomorrow we hope to have our first report of John J. McGraw's violent assault upon Cuban soil with a midiron and masher. Place your orders now.

There is room, says John M. Ward, for four major leagues. But where can they find enough players for the other four?

Georgia Loses Two Big League Training Camps

Boston Braves Only Club in Two Old Leagues to Train in the State for Coming Season—Cleveland and Brooklyn Go Elsewhere

Apparently Georgia towns will not find the popular favor as training camps for major league clubs that they did last season. Every club in the two old leagues have selected and reserved spring camps except the New York Yankees and one of the other fifteen clubs only one will train in the state. This is in the world's champion Braves, who will again do their early starts in Macon.

Manager Stallings has already announced that his collection of toasters will gather in the citadel of Bibb on March 1, that date being the earliest allowed by the league. Last season the Braves trained there, and later won the pennant. Manager Stallings, like a large percentage of the baseball fraternity, is strong on hunches, signs and superstitions. So long as his club continues to make good showing in the league race, it is certain that he will have them back to Macon for the following year for early training.

Last season Cleveland trained at Athens and Brooklyn at Augusta. The Naps followed up with the most disastrous season they have known in years, starting with bad luck before the training season was over, the chief consideration of which was the breaking of Ray Chapman's leg in the spring camp. Birge's charges were never able to get going, and finished a bad last. Brooklyn fared but little better. The Dodgers pulled up out of the rut for a time, but eventually dropped back into the also ran class.

But if the American and National leagues are going elsewhere for their early training, the Feds are looking in camps are sure to be pitched here. Among the other towns sure to land Federal leaguers are Augusta and Thomasville. There is a possibility that still others may come.

McCormick Gets Awarded Evans Trophy

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Jan. 27.—The George Evans baseball trophy, symbolical of the batting championship of the Southern league, the 1914 season has been awarded to Manager Harry McCormick of the Chattanooga club. This trophy, which is presented to the local manager some time during the month of February, was given to McCormick by the Evans family.

Tommy Long to Join Cardinals

Clark Griffith Trades Ex-Cracker for Pitcher Hooper Deal May Help Rabbit's Chances

Information has just been received that Tommy Long, who has chased this in left field for the Crackers for the past two seasons, will hook up with the St. Louis Cardinals during the 1915 campaign. Tommy was attached to one end of a string the other end of which traced its way to the Washington club, and at the close of the 1914 season he reverted to the Senators. But Manager Griffith has just completed a deal which will send the Rabbit to St. Louis.

According to this deal, Tommy is exchanged for Pitcher Joe Hooper. Hooper formerly belonged to the Washington club but Griffith allowed him to stay and he twirled in the American association last season. Griffith tried to land him in the draft but failed, on the strong recommendation of Joe Cantillon. Griffith began negotiations with Manager Huggins and the trade involving Long resulted.

Chicago Feds Will Train at Shreveport

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—Members of the Chicago Federal league club will leave for spring training at Shreveport, La., on March 4. It was announced today that eight or ten of last season's players will either be released or released. Manager Tinker said. None of them, however, was taken from the ranks of organized baseball.

The boxing situation in New Orleans is again about to reach the boiling point, after having simmered along for several weeks past. Additional spice has been given the situation by the announcement that Tommy Burns, ex-heavyweight champion, is going to open.

Indians Hold S. A. L. Berth

SAVANNAH, Ga., Jan. 27.—Savannah will retain its franchise in the Southern Atlantic league. At a meeting of the club, it was announced that the committee were appointed to canvass the city with a view to securing subscriptions from the fans to put the club on a sound basis financially. It is estimated that the club has 100 subscribers of $50 each being sought. Officers of the club will be elected later. It is probable that Perry Lipe, who led the Savannah team in the Southern league in the 1914 and 1915 seasons, will again manage the team although an announcement to this effect has not been made.

The Smoke of the Smart Set is not the ready-made or even ready-made-to-order cigarette. Smart men of fashion everywhere—club-men, connoisseurs, bon-vivants, millionaire sportsmen—have discovered the keener enjoyment and greater satisfaction in the fresh cigarettes of unique flavor and delicious mildness they roll for themselves, to suit their individual taste, from mellow "Bull" Durham tobacco. Today it is the very last word in correct form to "Roll Your Own."

No other tobacco in the world has the wonderful sweet fragrance and ripe natural mildness of "Bull" Durham. No other cigarettes have the exquisite smoothness and delightful freshness of "Bull" Durham hand-made cigarettes.

"Bull" Durham is a distinctive form of tobacco enjoyment, thoroughly appreciated by smokers of experience and discrimination for the supreme, lasting, wholesome pleasure it affords.

CRIPPLES' HOME BENEFIT AT THE GRAND SUNDAY

First Class Vaudeville and First Run Movies to Feature Program

In the interest of the buy-your-pennies campaign which Atlanta women are waging to establish a home for crippled children in Georgia, the Grand Theatre will stage a benefit performance Sunday afternoon, consisting of high-class vaudeville acts and first-run motion pictures.

The proceeds of the show will go to the benefit fund, which already has accumulated a considerable sum as the result of purchases by Atlanta business men Tuesday. With the proceeds of the show at the Grand and pencil sales which are being made in other cities of the state, the committee in charge hopes to announce next week that the home is a reality.

It is proposed to make the home a state-wide institution, caring for any crippled child in Georgia that is sent there on a reputable physician's certificate. Fresh air, good food, proper medical treatment and industrial training will be the features of the new institution.

Following are the ladies who will act as patronesses at the performance next Sunday: Mrs. Ransom Wright, Mrs. Edward Van Winkle, Mrs. Philip Barbour, Mrs. Arthur Hymus, Mrs. Jack Hayes, Mrs. Albert Tignell, Jr., Mrs. W. C. Jamison, Mrs. G. W. Forrester, Mrs. M. H. Sand, Mrs. Annie May Dor, Mrs. E. L. Bishop, Mrs. Gus Wilkerson, Mrs. Louise S. Foster, Mrs. W. K. Hiddle, Mrs. Gaudin Russell, Mrs. Dooler Loveland, Mrs. Nash Broyles, Mrs. Estelle Baker, Mrs. Miss Ruth Vigne, Misses Ruth Vigne, Mrs. Jack Hirsch, Mrs. W. C. Wardlaw and Mrs. Dowdell Brown.

The committee has arranged with several young boys and girls to assist in making collections at the show. They are Miss Katherine Wilson, Miss Nina Hymus, Miss Martha Boynton, Miss Elinore Jamison, Miss Mary Cohen, Miss Margaret Williams and Edward Van Winkle, Charlie Shepard and Harold Argo.

DR. KIME PRESIDENT CIVIC ORDER LEAGUE

Pledging further war on the locker clubs and grand jurors who fail to indict law violators, the Atlanta Civic Law and Order League met Tuesday night and elected Dr. R. B. Kime president. Six directors were named. They are: Dr. E. G. Cartledge, Dr. Joseph Broughton, Dr. J. W. Dunstan, T. C. Harris, Dr. Kime and Dr. R. H. Ryan. W. A. Albright was elected treasurer, and vice directors were named for several of the wards of the city.

BEAUCHAMP WILL RETAIN JOB WITH TAX ASSESSORS

Mayor Given Credit for Change, but Denies Hand in Affair

However, the mayor has another card to play in the Collier matter. When the tax committee takes up the election the mayor will cite, he said Wednesday morning, section 2796 of the code of 1910, which specifies that in future the Collier shall be performed by the tax assessors themselves. This, the mayor says, means that Collier is holding a job which has been abolished, and that no one should be elected to the position.

However, Tax Assessor Harrison says that there is a later law on the subject, which makes the position legal. The mayor has several times publicly charged that the tax assessors are not doing enough work and that the office force is too large.

Reporters asking about the situation Wednesday were referred by the other assessors to Mr. Harrison, and he stated flatly that the present office force would be reconstituted, and that he had been assured that a majority of the tax committee would support the nominees.

NEW OFFICERS ELECTED FOR CONVENTION BUREAU

Ivan Allen Chosen President at Second Annual Dinner of Directors

Directors of the Atlanta convention bureau held their second annual dinner Tuesday evening at the Winifred hotel and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Ivan Allen, president; Frederic J. Paxton, vice president; J. F. Letton, president of the board of directors; W. T. Perkins, treasurer. Six new members were elected to the board of directors, as follows: Henry Heine, Warner Martin, R. H. Cone, R. S. Abbott, Leon Walker and Charles C. Day. The following executive committee was appointed: Van R. Allen, chairman; F. J. Paxton, W. O. Stamps, J. R. A. Hobson, C. D. Knight, Len Barnes, James A. Hickey, R. S. Abbott and W. T. Wina.

IMPROVEMENTS URGED TO PROVIDE EMPLOYMENT

Chamber Committee Makes Important Recommendations in Report

The employment committee of the chamber of commerce, which recently submitted its report to the executive committee and had it approved, makes several recommendations for the betterment of local conditions. The committee is composed of the following members: Carter Woolford, R. S. Wessels, Clyde L. King, Rockwell Johnson, John D. Patterson, Edward H. Alsop, A. S. Adams, J. M. B. Mosley, Brooks Moran, F. J. Kamper, A. W. Bernhardt, L. D. Hicks and W. W. Orr.

The committee appointed sub-committees to deal with the following phases: City and county work among manufacturers and merchants; new industries; development of trucking industries; employment bureau, and work among women, co-operating with the women's committee.

In its recommendations, the committee thinks the best means of relief are as follows: improvement of needed public improvements on an extensive scale and the success of the build and repair campaign, which is in charge of another chamber committee.

In the matter of public improvements, the committee refers to its previous action in recommending a bond issue committee. The committee thinks relief methods should be applied as far as possible to surplus labor, so labor may become stabilized and the city not compete with private employers.

Reverting to public improvements, it is suggested that the bond issue take care of as extensive work as possible, rather than be restricted to what is actually needed. Also that the improvements be varied, so as to touch all classes of labor.

The banks are asked to co-operate in furnishing, as far as possible, funds for new enterprises and for contractors who contemplate building operations. Employers are reminded that a satisfied and loyal employee is a great asset, and they are urged to hold their forces intact, on full pay. This recommendation is particularly stressed on employers having salesmen on the road.

RAISE OVER MILLION IN TEN-DAY CAMPAIGN

Georgia and Atlanta alumni of the Stevens Institute of Technology, of New Jersey, N. J., will be requested to know that the ten-day campaign by the alumni to raise $1,360,000 for new buildings has yielded $1,144,670. At the annual meeting of the alumni in the Hotel Astor in New York last Saturday night, it was announced that an extension of time had been granted

TRADESMAN PURCHASED BY THE SMITH PUBLISHING CO.

Atlanta Will Be New Home of Old Chattanooga Publication

The Tradesman of Chattanooga, founded thirty-six years ago in that city and published continuously there ever since, has been purchased by the W. R. C. Smith Publishing company of Atlanta and will be combined with Southern Machinery, one of the company's publications, under the new name, "Iron Tradesman," the first issue of which will be out on February 15.

The Tradesman has had a steady growth practically since the day it was founded, and today is one of the best known standard industrial publications in the south, enjoying enviable circulation and prestige in its field and the resources of the section.

It is the plan of the new owners to devote the publication more particularly to the south's iron and metal industries, and backed by the large resources of the W. R. C. Smith Publishing company, it bids fair to be very rapidly developed into one of the foremost publications in the south along iron, steel and metal lines. New editorial talent and special writers are being engaged to handle the publication to the end that the south shall have a representative and authoritative journal covering all of the metal industries in this section.

The W. R. C. Smith Publishing company itself has had a remarkable successful growth. It owns and publishes Southern Engineer, Cotton, Southern Machinery and Electrical Engineering, and within the last ten years has purchased and combined, to make these four, no less than ten prominent publications. Its payroll, printing and paper bills now aggregate $200,000 per year.

For the purpose of rating the comparatively small balance, and Dr. Alexander C. Humphreys, president of the institute, made the confident prediction that the balance would be raised within the present week.

C. H. Page, past president of the alumni association, is stopping in Atlanta for the present. Mr. Page is president of the Dixie Stevens club, an organization of southern alumni formed some years ago. Mr. Lederle is secretary of the club.

A YOUNG LADIES' COURSE AT THE SOUTHERN INCREASED HER SALARY FROM $42 TO $110 PER MONTH

Mr. William Caldwell, Who Also Acquired Himself Well at The Southern, Informs the Public of His Success.

It pays to attend the Southern Business college. Mr. William Caldwell, who was a model pupil and who is going to make his mark in the business world, is among the recent graduates of the Southern who are making good. He writes about his success below.

Miss Mary Deak, formerly of Camden, S. C., called upon the managers of the Southern this week and made the following statement:

"I commenced teaching school at $20 a month, and although my salary was increased a little each year, I was receiving only $42 a month at the end of five years, when I resigned to take a course in shorthand and stenography at the Southern."

"After just five weeks' study in your school, I accepted a position as stenographer at $40 a month, and at the end of only three years I was receiving a salary of $110 a month with the Addressograph company of Atlanta. Your system of shorthand has no equal. My course at the Southern increased my salary from $42 as a teacher to $110 as a stenographer."

COTTON GOING UP, NOW IS THE TIME TO PREPARE FOR BUSINESS. Young people are now entering the Southern preparatory to the great rush which the coming of prosperity, now on the way, will surely occasion. Your other pupils have just accepted positions.

Mr. Caldwell's letter follows: Marietta, Ga., Jan. 14, 1915. Southern Shorthand and Business University, Atlanta, Ga.

Gentlemen: After attending your well known business college, you referred me to an opening with H. W. Wensley. Some of the large leather goods manufacturers of Atlanta and I am glad to tell you that I have "made good."

I selected your school after having received catalogues from the various business colleges, for I was convinced that the Southern was superior to all others in this section. With such a large and capable faculty, teaching the best systems of shorthand and bookkeeping in the
